

POETRY REFLECTION

For the poems assigned for this writing journal, consider the emotions it evoked, what struck you, moved you, confused you, made you think. What are some themes or ideas this poem addresses or plays with? Pull out a favorite line or two. What are some images you found interesting, strange, beautiful, disturbing, evocative? How does the poem play with sound? How does the poem use line breaks to create pauses, rhythms, ways of thinking about or reading the poem? What did you enjoy most? Least?

CRAFT ESSAY REFLECTION

For the craft essay/s for this writing journal, think about the following. What are the main ideas of the essay? What are some pieces of advice that you found most useful? Ideas you found thought-provoking? Elements you plan to apply or try out in your own writing?